

Telling His Stories: The Artistry of His Narrative: Jonah

Chafer Theological Seminary
Bible Conference
March 2019
Dr. Mark McGinniss

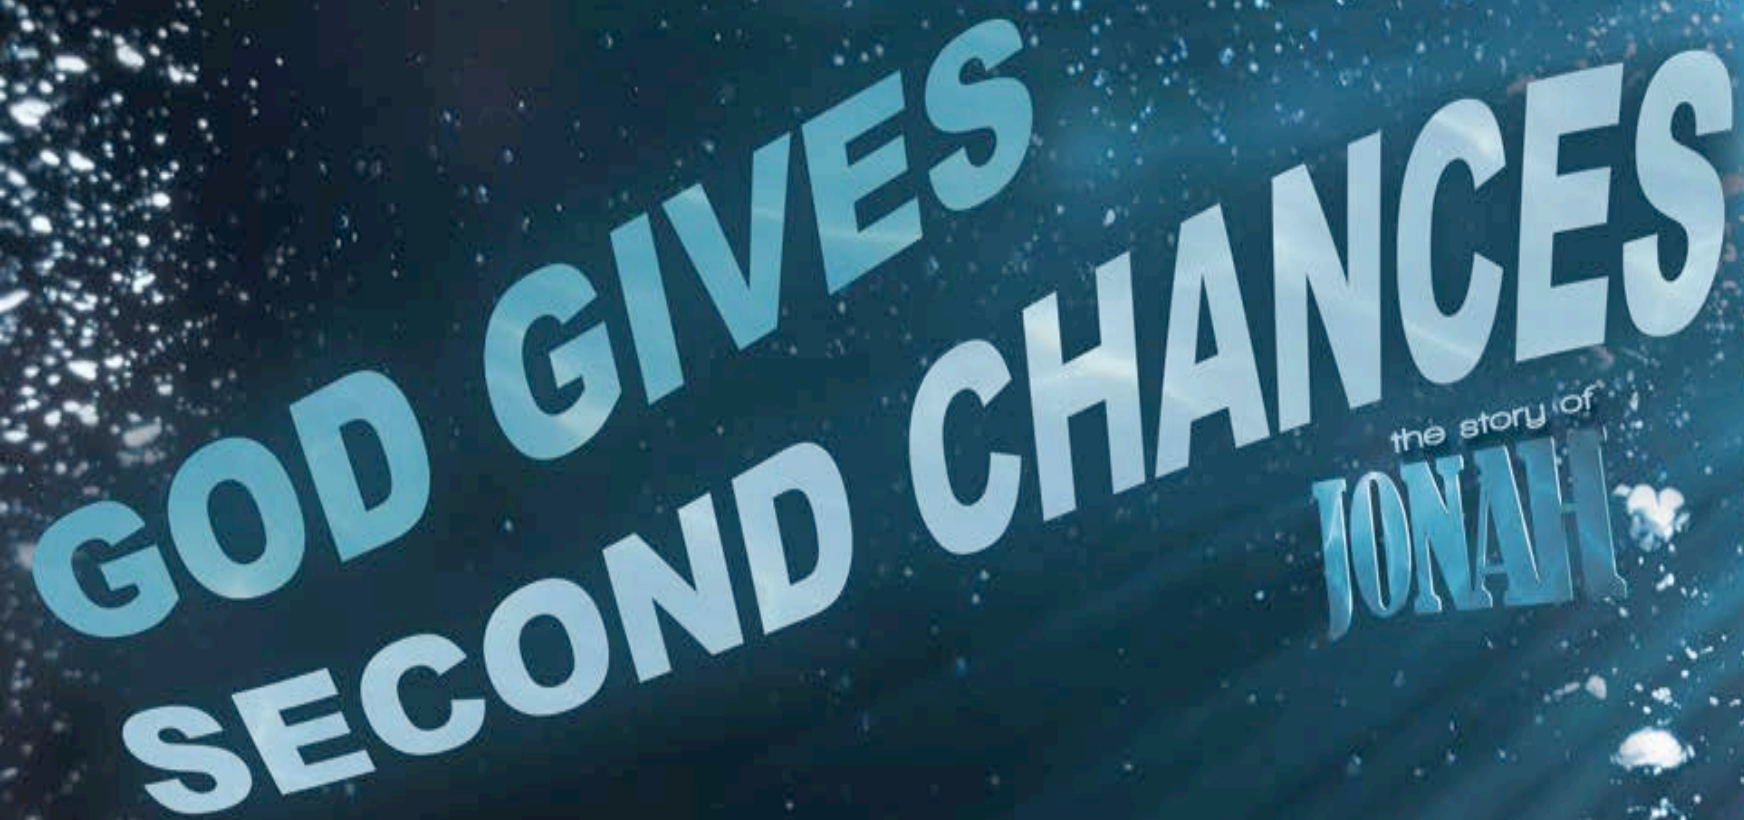

Thanks to Richard Germain (See Jonah 1-4)

09-19-2008

IT JUST SAYS "DON'T"

Jonah: The Prophet Who Wanted to Go Down...!

An underwater scene with sunlight rays filtering through the water, creating a blue and white color palette. Bubbles and particles are visible throughout the water.

GOD GIVES SECOND CHANCES

the story of JONAH

- “The story... has been consciously assembled by the author for a calculated effect on the audience.”

(Words of Delight, Ryken, 85)

- “Biblical literature sought to convince its audience (readers and listeners), the device of stories was employed... Much depended on the power of stories because a good story is irresistibly persuasive.”

- “The story... has been consciously assembled by the author for a calculated effect on the audience.”